Unit Description
The Centro de Filosofia das Ciências da Universidade de Lisboa (CFCUL) is a Research Unit organically constituted by Directive Boards – namely, its Scientific Coordinator, a Scientific Board, an Executive Board and a Permanent External Advisory Board – and 6 Research Groups.
Professor Olga Pombo is currently CFCUL's Scientific Coordinator.
The Scientific Board (SB) is constituted by all PhD eligible researchers, it has 35 members. The SB meets several times per year in a regular basis and decides when to gather the whole team (82 integrated members - of whom 8 are Post-doc students, 20 Phd students and 6 Master students; 41 collaborators - of whom 20 are international collaborators) or whether to meet with one specific group. The SB meets in an annual basis with members of the Permanent External Advisory Board.
The Executive Board (EB) is constituted by the eligible members responsible for the research groups and the research projects approved by the SB and by a Directive Board currently constituted by Prof. Olga Pombo, Prof. Isabel Serra, PhDs Catarina Nabais, José Filipe Pombeiro and Nuno Proença. The EB executes the decisions taken in the SB in order to guarantee:
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1) all the management and budgetary issues regarding each activity's implementation;2) the evaluation of all the achieved (or not) goals, always trying to analyze what worked out well or what did not go as initially expected.
The Permanent External Advisory Board (PEAB) is constituted by persons of widely recognized merit in the field of the Philosophy of Sciences, namely: Professor Andrade e Silva (Faculty of Sciences of the University of Lisbon), Professor Maria José Frapolli (University of Granada, Spain) Professor Franco Selleri (University of Bari, Italy) and Professor Daniel Andler (Sorbonne, Paris IV, France)
CFCUL has currently six Research Groups (RG):
<ul style="list-style-type: none">- Unity of Science;- Philosophy of Nature Sciences;- Philosophy of Life Sciences;- Philosophy of Mathematics;- Philosophy of Human Sciences, Ethics and Politics;

Objectives & Achievements

- Science and Art;

RG are responsible for the development of the CFCUL's research projects. Of these, 4 are granted by the FCT, 1 granted by Câmara Municipal do Montijo, and 13 are Internal Projects. CFCUL's has also 4 international research projects and 2 partnership projects in progress.

CFCUL is funded mainly by the Fundação para a Ciência e Tecnologia, within the Programa de Financiamento Plurianual de Unidades de Investigação e Desenvolvimento. However, CFCUL is also funded by Institutions such as: CRUP, Fundação Calouste Gulbenkian or Instituto Franco-Português. The Institution in charge of the funding management is the Fundação da Faculdade de Ciências da Universidade de Lisboa.

General Objectives

Created in July 2003, CFCUL is the only Research Unit in Portugal exclusively committed to Philosophy of Science. Supported in an idea of Unity of Science coming from the tradition of Leibniz and Neurath, CFCUL has a plural but coherent conception of Philosophy of Science.

Within that commitment, CFCUL's main objectives are:

- to encourage and promote the development of Philosophy of Sciences research in Portugal, more specifically, within the research lines: «Unity of Science», «Philosophy of Nature Sciences», «Philosophy of Life Sciences», «Philosophy of Mathematics»; «Philosophy of Human Sciences, Ethics and Politics» and «Science and Art», by stimulating and supporting both specialized and interdisciplinary research;
- to develop national and international research projects;
- to establish national and international partnerships;
- to organize colloquia, workshops and conferences;
- to promote a Philosophy of Sciences Permanent Seminar for seniors researchers and a Gymnasium for post-graduate students;
- to assure the supervision of graduate and post-graduate students on Philosophy of Sciences;
- to integrate research and post-graduate studies through Master and Doctoral programs;
- to publish the most relevant studies carried out in the several activities organized by CFCUL's research groups.
- to edit a Scientific online Journal Kairos;
- to edit a series of books on Philosophy of Sciences («Philosophy of Science Notebooks»);
- to edit a series «Thesis» with the most relevant Master and Phd dissertations in philosophy of science
- to edit a series «Documenta» with the proceedings of the conferences and colloquia organized by the CFCUL
- to reach the wider national and international scientific community and the specific publics we thought might be interested or benefit from our research in Lisbon as well as in the rest of the country and abroad (through CFCUL's webpage and through the organization of several outreach activities, like free courses, conferences and book debates).

Activities

Integrative/multidisciplinary activities during the year of 2010

Given the nature of CFCUL's research field, a great number of its activities are inherently integrative and multidisciplinary. Behind the fact that Philosophy of Science is in itself an interdisciplinary area, the team of CFCUL is composed by members coming from a significant variety of disciplines (Philosophy, Physics, Biology, Medicine, Mathematics, Sociology, Logics) and institutions (Faculty of Sciences, Faculty of Medicine, Faculty of Philosophy, Faculty of Fine Arts). So,

1) Some of our projects are strongly interdisciplinary. For instance:

- the FCT Research Project Poincaré, Philosopher of Science includes researchers from Physics, Mathematics, Philosophy, Logics, History of Science and Mathematical Learning
- the FCT Research Project Image in Science and Art includes researchers from many fields: Philosophy, Epistemology, History, Sociology, Art, Semiotics, Medicine

2) Colloquia

- Workshop Dinamizar a Bioética na Universidade de Lisboa II: em torno da Clonagem Humana. In collaboration with Centro de Biodiversidade, Genómica Integrativa e Funcional (BioFIG), FCUL, 6 Apr
- V Jornadas Ibéricas, organized by the Project Lógica Universal e Unidade da Ciência, FCUL, 25-26 Feb

3) Besides the internal interdisciplinary nature of the CFCUL, we pursued the objective of inviting speakers from different research areas to the colloquia and conference cycles we organize, such as:

Permanent Seminar on Philosophy of Sciences:

Danièle Cohn, Anselm Kiefer et la Shoah: des formes pour une mémoire, 15 Sept

António Guerreiro, Sobre Agamben, 22 March
